Product Description

Custom Blue Acrylic Serving Tray Lucite Fruit Tray Acrylic Organizer Plexiglas Tea Tray or Coffee Tray

Here are some features of the acrylic serving tray:

Durable and Stain-Resistant Material: Acrylic, also known as Lucite or Plexiglas, is a durable and stain-resistant material. It's a great choice for a serving tray because it can withstand regular use and is easy to clean. An orange acrylic tray would add a pop of color to your table setting while maintaining a modern and sleek appearance.

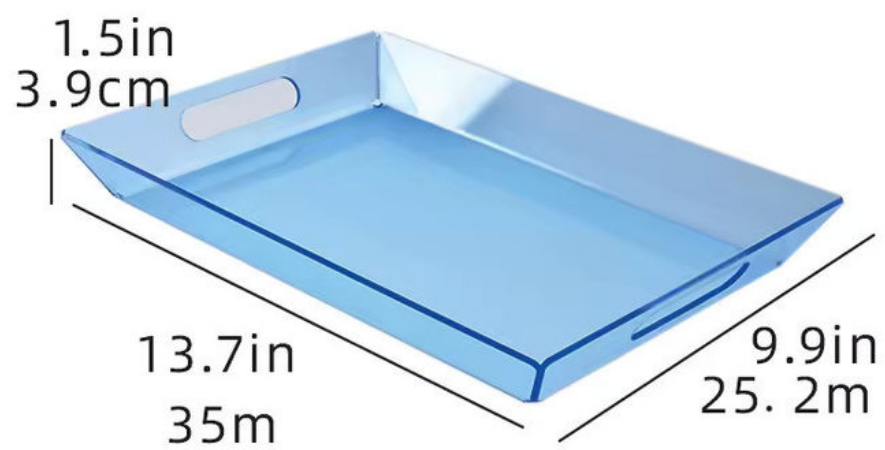

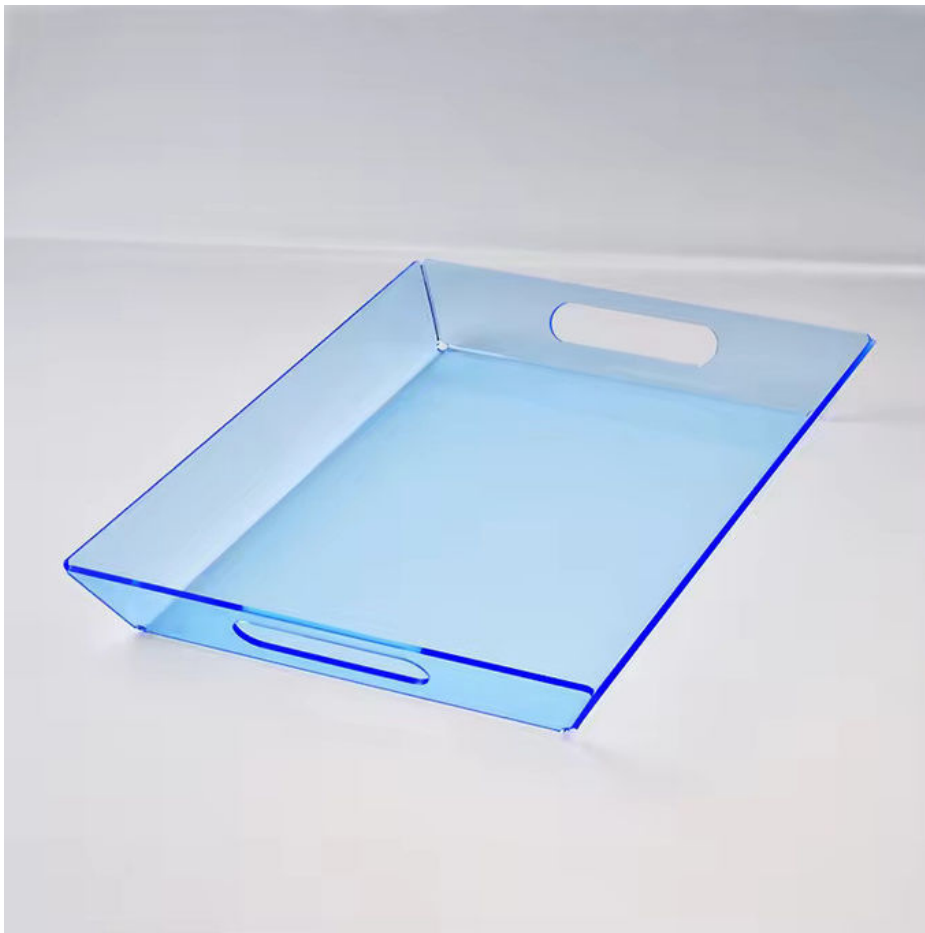

Versatile Design: The tray should have a versatile design that allows it to serve multiple purposes. For instance, it should be large enough to hold several cups and a tea or coffee pot for use as a tea or coffee tray. It should also have a flat, even surface for use as a fruit tray or acrylic organizer.

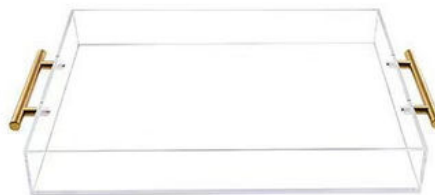

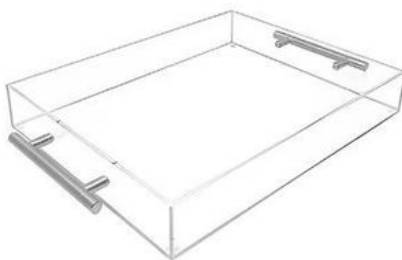

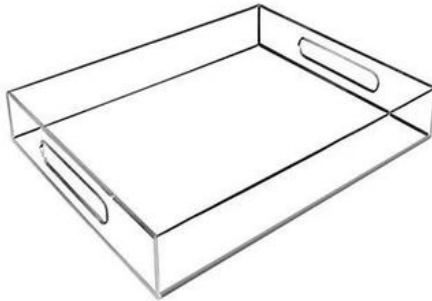

Functionality: Functionality is another crucial feature. This could include features like handles for easy carrying, non-slip feet to keep the tray stable, or raised edges to prevent items from sliding off. If you're using the tray as an organizer, consider one with separate compartments to keep items neatly arranged.
